VISUAL ARTS CURRICULUM

Volume Pricing Guide FOR SCHOOLS & DISTRICTS

Hello and welcome!

I'm Teacher Rebecca

FOUNDER OF STUDIO SPROUT

Teaching art to thousands of students over the past 25 years has shown me the incredible power of art. It helps children connect with themselves, one another, and the world around them.

I envision art as a time of curiosity, belonging, thoughtful risk-taking, and honing creative problem solving skills.

Studio Sprout curriculum teaches foundational art skills based on the Elements of Art and Principles of Design with ready-to-teach, standards-aligned lessons.

Every lesson is classroom-tested and designed to balance guidance with choice. Along the way, students are introduced to diverse artists, important art movements, and meaningful connections to STEM, language arts, and SEL.

Whether you're supporting one classroom or an entire district, my goal is simple: to help you build an art program where every child sees themselves as an artist.

Now let's take a look at Studio Sprout in real classrooms and the nuts and bolts of how it all works.

We are finishing ours this week. So happy to fill our halls with flowers while the playground still has snow! This will be my second year doing this project and I love how everyone can be successful.

Started our Elements of Art books with lines today! My kindergartners LOVED it!! Can't wait to do more with them.

I love your lessons! They are the perfect mix of inspiration, instruction and creativity! Thank you!

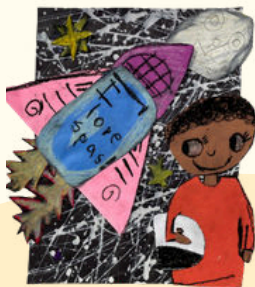

I did the Lines lesson with my kindergartners this week. It was our first week back. They loved the lesson and so did I.

We are getting extra depth out of the "they call me river" lesson as we study weather, water cycle and atmosphere this week for science.

Thanks so much - it really adds a ton to have art or connect to the concepts in science

Thank you so much! 1st year art teacher so much appreciated. I did your Mae Jemison lesson and the kids loved it!

I have a student who typically refuses to do art and I let him decide what he's ready for- he had a meltdown a few weeks ago about it but on Friday he was so engaged in the lesson. It was a huge step for him! Thanks for making accessible lessons!

This is on our bulletin board outside our classroom and are getting so many compliments.

Re-assigned to teach art after 7 years of PE

“

Studio Sprout helps me deliver high-quality instruction through flexible lessons that can be adapted to meet the needs of every learner.

I struggled to put together an art curriculum. Finding your video tutorials and step-by-step lesson plans were a saving grace.

I've learned so much from you about materials and techniques and that's given me more confidence to add my own ideas to projects.

Frequently Asked Questions

How do teachers access the curriculum?

Everything is delivered through our online streaming portal. Teachers get individual logins and can stream lessons or download printable plans anywhere with internet access.

What age is the curriculum for?

Projects are ideal for ages 5–10 and easily adapted for younger or older learners.

What supplies do teachers need?

Mostly basics teachers already have – watercolors, oil pastels, paint, markers, glue, and scissors. Supply lists go out a week before each new project drops.

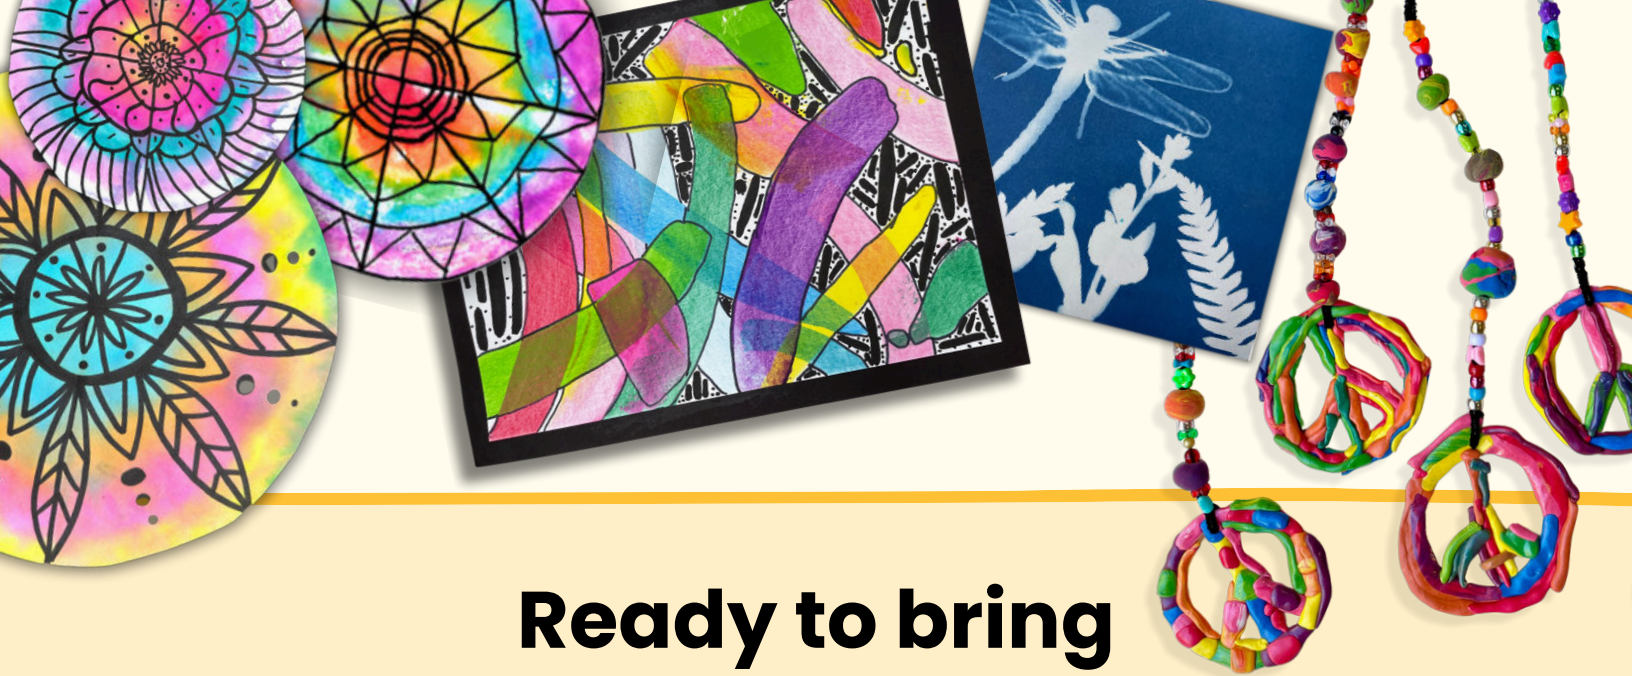

What does onboarding look like?

Send a spreadsheet with each teacher's name and email. Accounts are set up within 48 hours, and teachers receive login instructions by email.

Is there a limit on classrooms or students?

No. Studio Sprout is fully online, so there's no cap on classrooms or students and no per-student fee.
